ABOUT THE SUMMIT

In conjunction with International Construction Week (ICW), the 2nd Digital Construction Summit (DCS) 2025 is a much-awaited summit that will bring us high-level discussions with key stakeholders in digital construction. DCS 2025 is a platform to discuss digital trends, strategic planning for organisations, stock take potential, and market size in the ASEAN and East Asia region, as well as impart benefits to the construction of digital growth.

FOCUS

The DCS 2025 will host a highly curated panel discussion with an interactive exhibition for networking and gathering leading minds to examine the evolution of the digital construction industry in the ASEAN region as Malaysia hosted the chairman for ASEAN 2025.

There are four key reasons for participating in the DCS 2025, among many other benefits:

- A high-level international summit on digitalization
- Find out the latest info and megatrends in digital construction
- Seek potential digital growth in ASEAN and East Asia region
- Develop new business linkages and opportunities with key players

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

- Government leaders, policymakers, and key decision-makers
- High reputable construction contractors
- Consulting engineers
- Business leaders and entrepreneurs
- Academics and educationists
- Technologists and innovators
- Professional bodies and civil society leaders
- Digital investors
- Start-up companies and talented digital entrepreneurs

BENEFITS OF THE SPONSORSHIP

Participating in the DCS as a sponsorship will provide an excellent opportunity to promote your company, products, and capability. It is an effective platform to showcase your digital products. Your company logo will also be displayed in our publicity materials and get some other benefits.
